

ARGENTINA – CIVIL CODE

Article 39

Corporations, Associations, ect., will be considered legal persons wholly separate from their members. The goods that belong to the association do not belong to any of the members, and not one of the members nor all of them, are obligated to satisfy the debts of the corporation, if they have not committed themselves as guarantors or are in partnership with the corporation.